Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 04/19/2007 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 34, 35, 38-45, 47-50, 52-55 and 58-63 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Hakozaiki (US 6,234,845).

Hakozaiki discloses a card connector comprising a connector housing (30) having an upper wall (bottom of Fig. 1) and side leg portions (at 33, 34) adjacent to both ends of the upper wall, each side leg portion including first (at 33, 34) and second side walls and a step-like lower wall formed between the first and second side walls, a base plate (top in Fig. 1) adjacent to the leg portion, the base plate being opposite the upper wall, contact terminals (37) arranged on the base plate, to electrically couple with the contact pads arranged on the first and second cards; a first space defined by the upper wall, the first side walls, and the lower walls to hold side edge portions of the upper body portion of the first card and the body portion of the second card and to accommodate the upper body portion of the first card and the body portion of the second card; and a second space defined by the second side walls, the second space being between the first space and the base plate (as seen from the front in a vertical direction, see Fig. 3), wherein no portion of the base plate extends into the second space. Please note that recitations of the intended use of the claimed invention must result in a structural difference between the claimed invention and the prior art in order to patentably distinguish the claimed invention from the prior art. If the prior art structure is capable of performing the intended use, then it meets the claim. See In re Casey, 152 USPQ 235 (CCPA 1967) and In re Otto, 136 USPQ 458, 459 (CCPA 1963).

Art Unit: 2833

Regarding claims 35, 45 and 55, Hakoziaki discloses the second sidewalls of the side leg portions can guide the side surfaces of a lower body portion of a first card.

Regarding claims 38, 39, 42, 43, 48, 49, 52, 53, 58, 59, 62 and 63, Hakoziaki discloses the upper walls of the guide grooves being formed with an opening / a recess having a width larger than a lower body portion of a first card, i.e. a least the same size as the separation between the side walls.

Regarding claims 40, 41, 44, 47, 50, 60 and 61, please note that at least one of the terminals work as a braking piece.

Regarding claim 51, Hakoziaki discloses the braking piece secure to a position which is far part of the guide groove.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 36, 37, 46, 56 and 57 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hakoziaki in view of Horie (US 6,231,360).

Hakoziaki discloses substantially the claimed invention except for the eject mechanism. Horie teaches a card connector having an ejector mechanism (11) to help withdraw a card from the socket. Therefore, it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to from the card connector of Asakawa having an ejector mechanism, as taught by Horie, to help withdraw a card from the socket.

Regarding claims 37 and 57, Hakozaiki discloses the braking piece secure to a position which is far part of the guide groove.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to the claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection, as applied.

Conclusion

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Felix O. Figueroa whose telephone number is (571) 272-2003. The examiner can normally be reached on Mon.-Fri., 10:00am-6:00pm.
